Cooperation happens only when we put others first-it takes a team to achieve dreams

Teamwork occurs when diverse abilities and insights join together to work toward a common goal.

From The Head Teacher's Desk

This week we celebrate the Virtues and Values Of :
CO-OPERATION

On Sunday we reflected on Jesus calling His Disciples

Reading: Mark 1 vs14-20: Jesus said: "Follow me and I will make you fishers of men."

Jesus urges all of us to follow Him. He invites us all to take up our cross and emulate His words and His actions daily. This means we must all be prepared to face a life of challenge just as Jesus did. However, If we have the faith to persevere with doing good and challenging wrong wherever we see and experience it we will be blessed with such grace and joy! Martin Luther said, "Any faith or system of belief such as our religion that gives nothing, costs nothing, and suffers nothing, is worth nothing-sharing our faith while living it is our calling."

Jesus originally called twelve men from different backgrounds and with different life experiences and personalities to join Him with spreading the Good News of the Gospel. The impact of their work is still being felt today all across the world by virtue of the new disciples who have decided to work in full cooperation with Jesus to spread the Gospel and not the gossip in the world today! Let us say yes to Jesus when he says:
